

JEBE | Letter from the Editor

Hello Readers,

Welcome to the first issue of the Journal for Excellence in Business Education. The idea of having a journal that business professors could share knowledge started in 2011, and with the help of many people, has become a welcome place to publish. I would like to personally thank Terry Severson, Angela Moody, Steve Lute, and Matt Goddard, from the marketing department at Bellevue University, for their time and expertise in everything from logo design to website development. I would also like to thank the JEBE reviewers who provided quality and cordial feedback for the first edition. I look forward to future issues and sharing knowledge.

Dr. Julia Cronin-Gilmore, Editor
